U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas

Defended Micron in suit alleging infringement of patent relating to hillock suppression in semiconductors.

Graphics Properties Holdings, Inc. v. HTC Corporation, HTC America Inc., et al.

U.S. International Trade Commission

Defended HTC in four-patent case concerning CPU architecture, floating point rasterization and frame buffering, and large-area wide-aspect-ratio flat panel technologies.

In re Certain Electronic Devices, Including Handheld Wireless Communication Devices

U.S. International Trade Commission

Defended HTC against allegations of patent infringement relating to performance and power management in semiconductors used in wireless communication devices.

Lemelson Medical, Education & Research Foundation Ltd. Partnership v. Intel Corporation

U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona

Defended Intel in action alleging infringement of patents claimed to relate to semiconductor manufacturing and machine vision. Portion of claim dismissed; remainder settled after favorable claim construction.

Microprocessor Enhancement Corporation v. Intel Corporation

U.S. District Court for the Central District of California and U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit

Defended Intel in patent action alleging infringement of patent related to conditional execution of machine instructions in a pipelined processor. Summary judgment of non-infringement affirmed by the Federal Circuit.

Mobility Electronics Inc. v. Comarco Inc.

U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona

Successfully opposed preliminary injunction in case alleging that Mobility's power adapters infringed patent claims. Case settled after preliminary injunction denied.

Saxon Innovations LLC v. Apple Inc., et al.

U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas

Represented Intel as intervenor-defendant in patent action filed against Intel customers alleging infringement of patents relating to microprocessor, chipset, and wireless communications/privacy technology.

St. Clair Intellectual Property Consultants Inc. v. Acer Inc., et al.

U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware

Represented Intel as intervenor-defendant in patent infringement action filed against Intel customers alleging infringement of patents relating to chipset technology. Represented HTC in related case and successfully argued for favorable means-plus-function claim construction in Markman Hearing.

STC.UNM v. Intel Corporation

U.S. District Court for the District of New Mexico

Successfully defended Intel in patent suit relating to lithographic patterning in semiconductor manufacturing. District court granted summary judgment that patent was unenforceable and dismissed case for lack of standing. Federal Circuit affirmed, rejecting purported right to join a co-owner against the co-owner's will.
